

City of
Mountain View

Sustainability Division Work Updates

April 16, 2024

Danielle Lee, Chief Sustainability and Resiliency Officer

- December 2023: Awarded $25k from County to provide climate resiliency support to vulnerable communities
- March 2024: Finalist for Strategic Growth Council resiliency grant (~$5M) submitted last year – not awarded.
- March 2024: Applied for $14.3M from the EPA to upgrade 2 city/school district gyms with resiliency measures
- April 2024: Approximately $2M California Energy Commission grant application in progress for City fleet charging, requires matching funds
- April 2024: Applying for $148K in Department of Energy funding to electrify city operations

Program Highlights

- Income-qualified E-Bike Voucher Program accepting applications April 8-28
  - www.mountainview.gov/e-bikes
- BlocPower available to multifamily property owners
  - Developing public-facing website and internal map to inform outreach
  - BlocPower is already working with two properties, and official program launch anticipated this quarter
- PG&E program to replace water heaters at City facilities at low or no cost
- Cool Block - hiring for a part time position to launch 2024 cohort

Program Highlights

- RFP released to find a consultant to develop a 2035 Climate Strategy. Proposals due today, 4/16
- Presentation to the school board 4/18 to discuss installing solar at Mountain View Sports Pavilion and Whisman Sports Center
- Earth and Arbor Day – this Saturday, April 20
  - Photo contests
  - Organized vendors and entertainment

EARTH AND ARBOR DAY

— Celebration —

Saturday, April 20 | 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
Mountain View Community Center - 201 S. Rengstorff Ave.

Recent Accomplishments

- Received an A from the Carbon Disclosure Project
- Sea level rise tour

- Electric landscaping equipment tool lending library

- Plant-Based Eating events
- Marketing SVCE programs and incentives: In 2023, MV residents claimed 100 rebates

Thank you